

Academic Teaching Staff - Adjunct Lecturer Lancaster University Leipzig - Navitas

Salary: Competitive (depending on qualifications and experience)

Location: Leipzig, Germany

Type: Fixed-term contract; part-time, hourly paid contract

The Lancaster University Leipzig campus offers a range of Lancaster University (LU) degree programmes, with the university committed to providing the same academic quality and fully rounded student experience as in the UK. In January 2020, the campus opened with a Lancaster University accredited foundation programme delivered by Navitas Germany GmbH – part of Navitas Group - an Australian owned public listed company. Navitas is an industry leader in providing managed campus services, as well as pre-university and university pathway programmes for domestic and international students in Asia, North America, Africa, Australia, Continental Europe and the United Kingdom. Navitas Colleges are modern and dynamic educational institutions committed to providing quality educational programmes and excellent student support in an environment that encourages students to achieve the best possible results in their studies. We currently have four Lancaster University accredited Bachelor of Science programmes and expanding the portfolio to postgraduate programmes as part of the growth plan.

Lancaster University Leipzig invites applications from lecturers interested in being included into a pool of lecturers with the opportunity for hourly paid teaching in a Foundation and Pre-Master programme. Contracts take into considerations other professional engagements by lecturers and will apply flexibility whenever possible.

Applications are accepted from lecturers with expertise in one or more of the following areas:

- Management, Strategic Management and Project Management
- Marketing and Branding; Digital Marketing
- Managerial and Information Economics
- Human Resource Management and Organisational Development
